

PM, RSS, bureaucracy aim to 'mutilate' Constitution: Rahul

Bengaluru

Congress vice-president Rahul Gandhi on Friday accused Prime Minister Narendra Modi of seeking to subjugate various democratic institutions of the country in collusion with the RSS and the bureaucracy with an aim to 'mutilate' its Constitution.

"What is happening today is the systematic capture of India's democratic institutions by the prime minister, by the bureaucracy and the RSS....," said Rahul, adding "... the aim is to mutilate the Indian Constitution which was given to us by Babasaheb Ambedkar. That is the aim..." Modi and RSS want India to surrender its voice, he said while inaugurating a 3-day B R Ambedkar International Conference organised by the Karnataka government here. Rahul said India lost its independence because when Britishers stepped on its soil and millions and millions of people kept quiet and allowed them to do exactly what they pleased as they were powerful.

"And that is exactly what is happening today. When the journalist doesn't write about the violence (occurring) in front of her eyes, when the judge is pressurised into giving a judgement... that is exactly what is happening," retorted Rahul. "India's freedom was not simply taken away by the British. It was handed over to them by some Indians... we lost our voice because we surrendered it."

"And this is exactly what Modi and RSS want. They want India to surrender its voice." Observing that there were "two ways to rob people of their voice" - either by frightening them into submission or by shouting so loudly that no one else can be heard, Rahul said, "Narendra Modi and the RSS are doing exactly that."

"What is happening today is the systematic capture of India's democratic institutions by the Prime Minister, by the bureaucracy and the RSS....," he charged.

"Do not forget that every single Indian will be robbed of their voice, every single Indian will be robbed of his future. We must firstly keep the firm grip on reality. We must never ever allow them to strangle it," he said.

Attacking Modi on demeritisation and for not listening to the farmers, Gandhi said, "The emperor is completely naked, but nobody around him has the courage to tell it to him." PTI

Judiciary open to have more women judges: Centre

New Delhi

Judiciary is open to the idea of having more women as judges but reservation is not envisaged for this purpose in the higher judiciary, the government said on Friday.

Responding to a question in the Rajya Sabha, Law Minister Ravi Shankar Prasad said while the government has a limited role in appointing members to the higher judiciary, but "we are not helpless" and the Centre will keep sensitising the judiciary in regard to appointing more women. Prasad said there was no provision for reservation in the higher judiciary and hence it is not envisaged.

However, the government keeps sensitising about the need for representation of minorities, SCs, STs and women.

The Minister said there was a need to make 'more' gender representation in the higher judiciary and it was not fair to say that Supreme Court judges are against gender justice.

"I have been minister thrice... and I have interacted with them (senior judges), they are quite open to the idea," he said, adding that he would convey the concerns to senior judges on the issue.

Guns Carriage Factory, Jabalpur in the dock

Fake Chinese spares for indigenised Bofors guns, says CBI FIR

New Delhi

China-made parts camouflaged as 'Made in Germany' found their way to the production line of indigenised Bofors guns used by the army, prompting the CBI to file a case against a Delhi-based company. Besides Sidh Sales Syndicate, the CBI also registered a case against unidentified officials of the Guns Carriage Factory (GCF), Jabalpur, under criminal conspiracy, cheating and forgery for supplying fake and cheap China-made spares passing off as Made in Germany for Dhanush guns, the FIR alleged.

Dhanush is the indigenised version of the Bofors artillery guns which performed exceedingly well during the Kargil conflict in 1999. The CBI alleged that the supplier entered into criminal conspiracy with the unidentified GCF officials to supply duplicate spare parts (bearings) used in the manufacture of Dhanush guns. "In furtherance of the said criminal conspiracy, unknown officials of GCF accepted the Chinese manufactured 'Wire Roller Bearings' supplied by Sidh Sales Syndicate which were embossed as 'CRB-Made in Germany'," the CBI said in the FIR.

The agency said production and performance of the Dhanush gun is extremely crucial for India's defence preparedness and "wire roller bearing" is its vital component. A tender was floated for the procurement of four such bearings according to the Rothe Erde drawing for 155 mm gun in which four firms had participated. The order was given to Sidh Sales Syndicate at the value of Rs 35.38 lakh in 2013, the FIR stated.

The order was further increased to six bearings at the cost of Rs 53.07 lakh on August 27, 2014.

The company supplied two bearings each on three occasions between April 7, 2014 and August 12, 2014.

The company submitted 'certificates in origin' showing the bearings were procured from CRB Antriebstechnik, Germany. They were also embossed with the label, CRB-Made in Germany. GCF tests showed that the bearings were unacceptable due to deviations in dimensions. The company provided clarifications and assured that in case of non performance of the bearing due to manufacturing defects, they would replace the bearing free of cost and take corrective action for future supply. ## Court orders de-sealing of suite in which Sunanda Pushkar died

New Delhi: A Delhi court on Friday ordered de-sealing of a suite in a 5-star hotel here where Congress leader Shashi Tharoor's wife Sunanda Pushkar was found dead in 2014.

Metropolitan Magistrate Pankaj Sharma directed to unlock the suite within four weeks from today and said the hotel could not be put to unending hardship due to laxity on part of the police.

The court, however, said that the probe agency would be at liberty to visit the suite before filing of the compliance report in the court regarding de-sealing of the suite.

The police was also allowed to take out the articles lying inside the suite with due care for the purpose of investigation. The court noted that no offence was found on part of the hotel and that no police official visited the suite for last more than one year. The hotel had submitted before the court that locking of the suite would create sanitary and cleanliness issues for it. The police had said in its status report that it was not able to reach a definitive conclusion so far regarding cause of Pushkar's death. The hotel had claimed that due to the sealing of the suite, which costs between Rs 55,000 and Rs 61,000 a night, it had suffered a loss of over Rs 50 lakh in the last three years. It claimed that a number of times, police and forensic teams had visited the suite

SC asks CBI...

Tulsi alleged the original Excel sheet, related to the scam, contained names of the chief minister, his wife and others and the apex court, on December 15, last year, had directed the agency to file CFSL report in the trial court. Solicitor General Ranjit Kumar, appearing for the CBI, vehemently countered the submissions saying the CFSL report would be filed with the charge sheet.

"In view of the statement made to this court by the Solicitor General of India, we find no justification in retaining the instant matter any further. We therefore dispose of the instant matter with a clarification, that the competent CBI court shall take its independent decision on the afore-stated CFSL report, in consonance with law.

"We also consider it appropriate to direct, that the final report as indicated above shall be submitted to the CBI court concerned, on or before October 31," the bench said. The apex court, which had transferred Vyapam scam probe to CBI, on December 15, last year had noted that the probe agency had sent "disputed Excel file (hard disk and pendrive) for analysis to the CFSL at Hyderabad". The court on Friday said it would not "examine the said report and comment on the veracity thereof" and rather ask the trial court to deal with it "in accordance with law" when the probe agency files the same.

The Solicitor General said the CBI is bound to carry out directions of this court including the order to submit the CFSL report before the competent court. He also said the CFSL report would be appended to the final report and placed for consideration of the competent special CBI court. Earlier, the court had directed CBI to file remaining over 30 charge sheets in connection with the scam. The scam relates to alleged irregularities in the Vyapam, which holds exams for positions like medical officers, constables, teachers and auditors for government departments. The apex court had in July, 2015 ordered a CBI probe into all Vyapam scam cases and alleged deaths of people related to the scam. The Madhya Pradesh government had given its consent to shifting of the investigation from the Special Investigation Team (SIT) and the Special Task Force (STF) to CBI. The multi-core rupees professional examination scam, involves several high-profile professionals, politicians and bureaucrats as accused. PTI

Bed-ridden man...

With alterations the final list of 34 accused was released declaring that the accused were on the run and rewards ranging from Rs 1,000 to Rs 5,000 were announced for their arrest. One of the accused, who has reportedly been included to give credence to the involvement of drug smugglers in farmers' agitation, is Kamlesh Patidar. A case under NDPS Act had been registered against him in 2011. However, he was acquitted of the charge by high court on April 25, 2017. At present Kamlesh carried a reward of Rs 5000 for his arrest. Another question mark over the shoddy police action is related to an accused Ajay Sureshchandra Patidar of Narayangarh, who reported at Piplyamandi police station on June 4 and July 2 and his presence was marked in the police diary. Similarly Lachhiram Lohar of Sanawada, another accused, has been reporting to the police as directed. Shockingly both these accused have been declared absconding and Rs 5,000 reward has been declared on each of them. As if this was not enough an accused Pushkar Lal Sharma is already behind bars in district sub jail, Mandasaur from March 2017 and yet declared absconding by the police and a reward announced for his arrest! His name was removed later from the list. Newly posted deputy inspector general of police Dharmendra Chaudhary, on being asked about these bizarre cases, during his visit to Mandasaur, told Free Press that all cases would be checked again. Mandasaur SP Manoj Kumar Singh said following the release of the initial list there would be amendments post investigation of each accused. Some names would be removed from the list and some would be added. He said that Pushkar Lal Sharma's name has been removed after investigation.

GJM stir: WHC concerned about DHR, damage to its stations

Darjeeling

The World Heritage Center (WHC) has expressed concern over Darjeeling Himalayan Railway (DHR) in view of the ongoing violence by GJM and may bring it to the attention of World Heritage Committee when it meets next year.

It has already sent two letters to the Centre to verify the nature and extent of the damage caused to two stations of DHR by GJM supporters stations in the ongoing indefinite shutdown in Darjeeling Hills, WHC director, Mechtild Rossler said.

The letters have also inquired about the overall state of conservation of the DHR, she said adding UNESCO is ready to provide assistance to India in its efforts to safeguard this heritage."

The WHC is a coordinator within UNESCO for all matters related to world heritage and Darjeeling Himalayan Railway, which was built between 1879-1881 and was declared a World Heritage Site by the UN agency in 1999.

"Please let me assure you that the UNESCO WHC is following with concern the outbreak of civil unrest in Darjeeling Hill. We have received reports of arson attacks at the Ghayabari and Sonada stations as well as of an arson attempt at the Elysia Building, all of which are important elements of the Darjeeling Himalayan Railway (DHR), a component part of the serial World Heritage property 'Mountain Railways of India,'" she said in an e-mail. "... Should the outstanding universal value of the World Heritage property remain under threat, the state of conservation of the Mountain Railways of India may be brought to the attention of the World Heritage Committee at its 42nd session in 2018," Rossler said.

Railways officials and tour operators expressed concern over the damage to DHR, which is commonly known as 'toy train' and is a major attraction for tourists, in the agitation.

Uproar in RS over publication of expunged remarks

New Delhi

The Rajya Sabha on Friday saw uproar over broadcast and publication of certain expunged remarks of a Samajwadi Party (SP) member regarding Hindu Gods, prompting Chairman Hamid Ansari to promise that show cause notices would be sent to a TV channel and some newspapers.

Ansari also promised to look into the Opposition demand for privilege proceedings against certain media houses for disseminating the expunged remarks made by SP leader Naresh Agraw-al two days back during a discussion on lynchings.

The issue was raised by Agrawal himself, saying certain remarks made by him in the House were expunged by the Chair which had also ordered against publication or telecast of those remarks.

Agrawal alleged that members of BJP's youth wing Bharatiya Janata Yuva Morcha (BJYM) had attacked and vandalised his house in Delhi while a ruling party worker filed an FIR against him in Meerut in connection with these remarks. "Isn't this lynching?" PTI
