Traders demand starting of bus operations from Sarwate

Submit memorandum to Home minister. Warn of agitation if demands not met

OUR STAFF REPORTER
Indore

Traders and bus operators of the Sarwate Bus Stand area met Home minister Narotam Mishra demanding that he direct the district administration to start bus operations from the Sarwate bus stand at the earliest.

The bus operators also reminded the minister that the administration had committed that they would allow the operators to ply the same number of buses that they had been plying from the stand, before its reconstruction.

"The bus stand was under reconstruction for the last three and half years which has broken our back. The administration is not only delaying in starting the operations at the bus stand they are also decreasing the number of buses that we would be allowed to ply," secretary of Sarwate Stand Vyapari Mahasangh Anil Sharma said.

He added that running local buses would not give them the necessary revenue, as the main money came from running inter-district buses. "We have met the home minister to place our demands and also met the BJP leaders to intervene in the matter. We will be left with no option but to demonstrate against the government. We will hit the roads for our demands if no action is taken by the administration," Sharma said.

IS IT ONLY AN EYEWASH? Mhow Cantt Board seizes material kept on the roads

FP NEWS SERVICE
Mhow

Back when illegal constructions on cantonment properties and roadways were going on throughout the city, the Cantonment Board did nothing and, as a result, encroachment in the city increased.

Today, too, the Board sent a team of engineers to raid six construction sites and confiscate their construction material just as a formality-to hide their weakness and show how active they are-by giving some warnings. After being posted in Mhow for a long time, the deputy CEO of the Cantonment Board, for the first time, performed such an operation and it is history that the board executives start such actions, but, only after one or two days, they just get sidelined and everyone goes back to the way things were going on.

Today, illegal constructions are happening fast and against the rules in the city without any permission, but the Cantonment Board's responsible officials keep blaming the police administration. Due to this, the traffic system of the whole city is getting disrupted.

People have occupied the streets and pavement blocks that were put for the beauty of the city are now beautifying shopkeepers' establishments. Walking in many markets is also becoming difficult for the common man, but the responsible administration of the Cantonment Board is running a small campaign to fulfil their paperwork. The engineering department of the Cantonment Board has been playing an important role in illegal constructions in the city and, due to this, hundreds of houses have been built against the rules. In this regard, when we tried to talk to the deputy CEO and engineer of the Cantonment Board on the phone, they did not even consider it appropriate to receive the calls.
